Surviving the Slippery Slope: Complex Care, Pain and Addiction

Thursday, April 20, 2017

Speaker

R. Corey Waller,
MD, MS, FACEP, DFASAM

• NMC Hagerty Center •
715 East Front Street
Traverse City, Michigan 49686

The Conference

The Traverse City Area Dual Disorders Task Force proudly presents our 20th annual conference and sadly, our last one. We wish to thank those who have contributed in making these conferences the quality that they are and those who have supported us through their attendance and participation. This has been a wonderful collaboration between several agencies and individuals who recognize the value of learning how to better serve others with co-occurring disorders.

We are excited about the new co-occurring conference coalition which will be working on the next conference at the Hagerty Center on April 19, 2018.

Educational Goals

With overdose claiming the top spot on the list of injury related deaths, the CDC calling opioid overdose an epidemic and the prescribing of opioids showing no signs of abatement we are seemingly in troubled waters that we are barely able to tread. Interestingly though, opioid addiction has up to a 70% stabilization rate when evidence based approaches are used. In this conference Dr. R. Corey Waller will explore the neurobiology that explains the common behaviors in patients with addiction and chronic pain states. He will introduce the concept of the AMP-C diseases and why we will never be successful in improving healthcare without addressing them. We will then do a deep dive into the practical approaches to embedding evidence based addiction treatment into any practice and by any provider. By the end of this conference you should have a complete grasp on the most important next steps for our patients, their families and the communities in which they live.

Educational Credits

Application has been approved for 6.0 Certified Alcohol and Drug Counselor credits (C.A.D.C.), 6.0 Michigan Social Work (BSW/MSW) CEUs and 6.0 Registered Nurse (R.N.) credits. All sessions must be attended and an evaluation submitted to be eligible for credit.

Objectives

- Attendees will understand the neurobiology that underlies the disease of addiction and chronic pain
- Attendees will understand the AMP-C diseases and how they drive complexity in our patients
- Attendees will understand and be able to apply the evidence based approaches to the treatment of opioid use disorder
- Attendees will understand how mental health and addiction overlap and what that means for treatment system development
- Attendees will understand why interdisciplinary teams are the future of all medical treatment.
