2. PUBLIC COMMENT: None

3. SWOT ANALYSIS –

STRENGTHS – In summary, the Board was fully committed to NLCMHA’s mission and believed the voice of consumers and talent of staff were the primary strengths. Thoughts captured at the meeting are noted below:

- Talented staff
- Consumer representation
- Caring and concerned

- Fully committed to mission
- Group/collective leadership
- Diversity of perspective
- Represent different regions and vocations
- Closer to consumer interaction D/T Mental health code – having consumers on board
- Conscientious commitment
- Desire to do better.
- Everyone is fully committed/attentive
- Open and willing to change
- 6 political bodies.

WEAKNESSES – In summary, the Board noted the governance model and the concern of Grand Traverse County withdrawing from the Enabling agreement were the primary concerns. Thoughts captured at the meeting are noted below:

- Lack of institutional knowledge
- Flawed governance. Complex Industry
- High turnover of board. Low frequency of meetings
- Mismatch of community expectations. Satisfaction/dissatisfaction of consumers
- Lots of folks who can be served
- Absence of trust. Lack of vision
- Not seen as a leader
- 6 political bodies advocating
- State advocacy distractions
- Lack of public promotion
- Process mapping/model
- Conflict of Board member or customer with multiple hats
- Explanation of excuse.

THREATS – In summary, the Board noted the lack of trust and understanding amongst Board Members and the uncertainty of Grand Traverse County’s decision to withdraw from the Enabling Agreement were the biggest threats. In discussion the Board debated it’s support of Grand Traverse County as some believed a vote to offer the CEO position to Joanie Blamer was a vote against Grand Traverse County. Thoughts captured at the meeting are noted below:

- Lack of awareness of experience and skills
- Inability to meet has fostered a lack of development of trust and understanding
- Division between staff and the board
- Division among board members. Non-unified board
- Funding from the state and federal
- Governance model impeding agency performance
- Non-participating board members
- Learning curve for board members
- Grand Traverse withdrawal – the uncertainty of it.

OPPORTUNITIES – In summary, the Board noted reevaluating and/or modifying the current governance model and empowering representatives from all six counties to review (possibly modify) the Enabling Agreement. Thoughts captured at the meeting are noted below:

- Creation of separate mental health systems
- Show off/improve public perception
- Re-evaluate and modify governance model
- Board understanding through better understanding of board member backgrounds
- Establish root cause of dissatisfaction
- Check on organization that is results based, transparent and accountable
- Clearly identify scope of services (focused effort)
- Create new partnerships to serve people we currently cannot serve

- Different county representatives review Enabling Agreement
- More meetings back through all 6 counties.

MOVING FORWARD – In summary, the Board noted the need to better understand what their role and responsibilities are in the mental health code and administrative rules. Additionally, review of the governance model was deemed essential in moving forward. Thoughts captured at the meeting are noted below:

- Facilitate a discussion about the Enabling Agreement
- Facilitate a discussion between County Commissioners of all counties
- Have a retreat and address needs of consumers. Have board guide NLD planning
- Create a committee to analyze the Carver Model and make recommendation for change
- Motion to board today: review Mental Health code. Review admin rules
- Develop ways we can meet with board involvement – oversight, policy, accountability
- Understand our consumers.
